Located in the great city of New York City, the con artist, anthropomorphic dog and shape shifter from Across the Dimensions, Shawn has finally relocated to his new home in Manhattan. He's making a wonderful life for himself, working as a super hacker on corporate boards and in other shady, yet exciting, underground projects. But Shawn's plans soon turn sour when, one fateful day, he's kidnapped by Lace, a young, sexy, shape shifter. She demands that he don her disguise. Admiring Shawn's masculine physique, the beautiful Lace believes that she has him trapped. She rips Shawn's clothes off, revealing his deliciously muscular form. Lace wastes no time in jumping on top of Shawn and kissing him breathlessly. Then, she starts to transform, mutating into a beautiful young woman. Shawn can't help but admire her flawless body, as he gently strokes and kisses her all over, before deep throating her trembling snatch. She's totally in his power, and he uses this position to start taking full advantage of her. After a short, hot, moist romp, Lace returns home feeling satiated, horny, and totally empowered. To her surprise, she finds a package waiting for her in the living room. It's a mysterious puzzle box, and inside is a special tissue. Lace decides to keep the box and brainstorms a plan to turn Shawn back into a man later that night. Meanwhile, Shawn's family, friends, and co-workers are unaware that Shawn has been transformed into the shape of a beautiful woman. He keeps the box hidden and gets down to business right away. After seducing one of Shawn's close male friends, he proceeds to use her vaseline to turn himself back into a male, although he's none the wiser as to what he's up to. At the same time, his other friends, particularly Shawn's wife, (well, she has no idea), are doing their best to stay oblivious to what's been going on. Meanwhile, Shawn's co-workers are meeting to ask Shawn to become the newest member of their new company board. This meeting takes a highly erotic turn, as each co-worker knows the other in their 'other' form. Finally Shawn, his wife, and all their friends and co-workers make it to the birthday party where Shawn is turning 40. Lace surprises everyone, but the ultimate fun is yet to come. Shawn is shocked when Lace reveals that she has been fucking him with a strap

Demo For Your iPhone On the web today, we found this so great new application called Skyling Which is a very good looking, very useful and versatile app. Speaking of which, it's almost exactly like a game that we found out about earlier. It's called Uno. The principle is that you have 9 Squares, and 2 pieces of coloured paper... And these 2 pieces of paper, this is starting you off with out of these 2 pieces of paper, You're going to be given the name of a colour. It's your job to choose one of your pieces of paper and And then choose which of your coloured pieces you want to defend out of the 9 And then put a piece of paper in between the two of them. The first person gets to play. This is the first person that's going to play. Now, the interesting thing about this game is that the player who has to play gets to choose which of their pieces of papers they want to play with. So what they have done here, you see, is that they've mapped all of the squares onto the top left corner of their iPhone They have squashed it down to where they can barely hold it, so that they can see which thing is which on their phone And also because it's so small, they can hopefully squeeze it in their pockets And so they're going to choose which of their two pieces of coloured paper they want to defend And they're going to select that one, and then they're going to move it down into position So that's going to allow the player who's on the green squares, to know which one of their pieces of paper is which. And then they're going to move it down. So I'm going to put them in here in that position, and now you can see the pattern on the board When it's got no pieces in between the green and the red And so the player that's going to be defending their own piece of paper They're now going to defend their own piece of paper by placing their own piece of paper between their two pieces of paper So for example, the top square in the first player's side is their chosen piece
