I am an Alumni Ambassador at the University of Kentucky. I graduated from UK in 1986 with a Bachelor of Fine Arts in painting and sculpture. I taught in both the visual and fine arts departments at the college and high school levels for 20 years and now teach watercolor, acrylics, and line drawings at the Kentucky Arts Council. I have a new Masters degree in teaching from Murray State University. I want to share ideas, techniques, and experiences with other painters and those who teach. Search This Blog Wednesday, June 30, 2011 Surprise Package My birthday was last Tuesday! So to celebrate, I got a surprise present! It was fun, educational, and a lot of fun! I had my new sketchbook in mind! I decided to challenge myself and try to get a painting done each day. So far I am pleased with the results and this is my first painting in this new sketchbook! Welcome to the DianaLogs site. Welcome to a site dedicated to celebrating Diana's life, in all her forms. This site has been created so that Diana's fans all over the world can record their favorite memories, pictures, and of course, her very best song! I'm completely new to this thing. I'm a friend of a friend of Diana's son, Nicholas, and he asked me to do this. I'm a musician, and I love Diana. I'd love to make this a sort of mausoleum for Diana, to recognize her one last time, and for people all over the world to appreciate Diana's music, although I know there's way too many artists to list. So I was thinking, if this continues to become a wiki, then I can add all the artists I know, artists I've heard of, and more. So, I was wondering if we can all just make the pages for this thing to change? Anyone's able? Let me know if you'd like to be an admin, as well. Thanks all
